Every year on the auspicious occasion of the Krishna Janmashtami, small children of the schools run by the Banswara Pariyojan celebrate the festival with great enthusiasm. They dress up as Lord Krishna and carry out a procession in the schools, villages and towns with musical instruments and tableaux. All the activities create a bonhomie among the community. Common people in cities and villages, do stand to watch the kids dressed up as little Lord Krishnas and perform flower showers and sweet blossoms on kids procession. The atmosphere becomes very beautiful at the place and it immensely encourages the Bal Gopals.

In this season, Banswara Pariyojana schools also organized 'Krishna Sajao' competition at 14 places, in which thousands of people were present, in the evening there was a program of 'Matki Fod (Dahi Handi)' by kids from all the stratas of society.
