In accordance with social harmony and celebrating the Valmiki Jayanti, programs were organized at 16 places in Banswara, Dungarpur and Pratapgarh districts. Havan, Yajna, Shobhayatra were organised and collective prasad (food) was distributed at the end of the festivities and colonies by the Banswara Pariyojana. Havan and Yagya programs were organized at various places, along with religious sermons by local prominent saints were organized, in all these programs, Pariyojana pramukh Ramswaroop Ji Maharaj told about the great life of Maharishi Valmiki that he was a great scholar and warrior; also omnipotent but when his beloved and one of the trinity Lord Shri Ram, king of an invincible empire, exiled his wife Sita at that time, he did not care of the invincibility, he supported the mother of two kids and innocent Sita, he gave love and shelter to both Sita's sons, Luv and Kush. He taught them war science, and other sciences. He trained them so well that both of them defeated the invincible army of Awadh. He had written the character of Lord Ram before the Lord Rama's incarnation, (Ramayana), it is the same Ramayan which was recited by Luv and Kush in the court of Awadh eloquently. All the programs were organized and the organization of whole event was done by the local tribal brethren. More than 150 to 250 have attended the 16 separate events. At the end of the program, the Prasad (meal) was distributed among the attendees.
